Travel Tips & Suggestions

Best Short-Term Rental Sites

Airbnb. People can rent either whole houses or single rooms for long or short stays.
FlipKey is rental site within the TripAdvisor family. The site has over 300,000 listed properties.
HomeStay sets itself apart from other websites by offering hosted experiences.
Vrbo is one of the most popular short-term rental sites. The website lists over two million properties around the world.

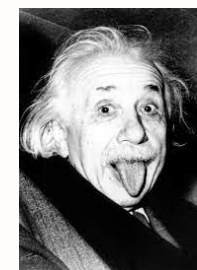

HOTELS

First, do your research on the property you wish to book, and know what rates are going for across the major travel booking sites for your dates. Then, call the hotel directly and ask for the "cheapest nonrefundable rate." You may be able to negotiate against the deals you found online, since hotels pay a markup of up to 30% to booking sites and would prefer you book directly. And if that doesn't work, at least you'll know you're getting the lowest possible rate.
